

Submitted to the Canadian Transportation Agency (Form submission)

Subject: Consultation on proposed changes to strengthen the Air Passenger Protection Regulations

Name: Travis Loughlin

Date: 2023-07-15

Mechanical issues should not be deemed a safety issue or out of the airlines control. Before the regulations came into effect an airline would provide accommodation for Mechanical issues now they get off scot free, in other words the regulations have made it worse for travelers.