

Submitted to the Canadian Transportation Agency (Form submission)

Subject: Consultation on proposed changes to strengthen the Air Passenger Protection Regulations

Name: William McKay

Date: 2023-07-14

Obviously, given today's temperature, it is clearly the government's job, in revising the Air Passenger Protection Regulations, to decrease air travel. To do this, please either: 1) make the regulations much more strict, so the airlines need to hire more workers and will raise prices; or 2) make the rules much slacker so air travel is so uncomfortable that people will only travel when necessary.

Thank you for your kind attention.