

Submitted by email to the Canadian Transportation Agency

Subject : animals on airplanes i believe that only registered service dogs should be allowed on airplanes in the passenger cabin . So called "emotional support animals" are a danger to other passengers & legitimate service animals.