

Please expedite confirmation of your policy exempting Indirect Air Service Providers from holding a licence to sell air services directly to the public (as long as they charter licenced air carriers to operate the flights). I was delighted to hear of the launch of NewLeaf Travel, and was looking forward to using their service to fly from my home near Abbotsford to eastern Canada. I am 65 years old and have only travelled as far as Saskatchewan. I would dearly love to see the rest of Canada while I am still young enough to do it! Thanks very much!

Frances Hudson